Dear Sir,

I have heard that there is a proposal that under certain circumstances the TGA will no longer regulate moisturisers with sunscreens with an SPF 20 or lower. I think this would be very retrograde in its affect. I do not feel the market will self regulate without problems arising.

I believe an independent body needs to be monitoring manufacturing quality and stability of the resultant formulations. I very much oppose any change to the current regulations.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Michael C. Symons
