They wished the permit to be in Holland by tomorrow and would propose that they send a courier to collect the permit.

I discussed this with [redacted] of DODS and, in the absence of both [redacted] and [redacted] we agreed that if one permit had been issued, which could not be acted upon, there would be no problem with the issue of a second permit, under the same conditions ie not for distribution in Australia and, as no data had been presented to the Department for evaluation, no guarantee could be given of quality, safety and efficacy.

Subsequently the courier, a RAANC sergeant, arrived with the attached letter. I copied same and directed him to DODS to collect the permit.
