Hi [REDACTED]

My reading of these comments is that they are more commenting on research process and public health concerns as opposed to representing a COI with ivermectin per se. As per usual, I am happy to raise this with the whole committee to make a decision, but i cannot see anything that would mean we would not consider [REDACTED] participation, and in fact, this expertise seems critical to the discussion. Thanks for the heads up though. My sense is that we are talking about use of ivermectin outside clinical trials which is one further step removed from the discussion that [REDACTED] has been engaged in.

Hi [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] has flagged that [REDACTED] is on record with [REDACTED] views on ivermectin – see below. [REDACTED] has asked if this potential COI would preclude [REDACTED] from attending. I wouldn't have thought so (though [REDACTED] should include it in [REDACTED] COI), but I said I would run it past you. Grateful for your thoughts.

Kind regards,
