Hello,

I support the amendment to make CBD available behind the counter in pharmacies.

It will allow easier and safer access to low dose CBD for treating minor conditions.

I suffered chronic inflammation from sports injuries, daily anxiety and stress from a young age.

Experiencing worsening symptoms when relocating to the United States I was referred by a naturopath to Distillate CBD.

a) I suffer from an opportunistic disease that gets triggered by stress. Since consuming CBD at 20MG per day, I have had little recurrences which also reduces the prescription medication that I am recommended to take every time I feel symptoms coming on.

b) I suffered chronic inflammation from sport injuries as a teenager. Since consuming CBD at 20MG per day, my joint pain has subsided.

CBD has benefited me by managing my daily anxiety, alleviate stress and reducing joint pain, allowing me to live a fuller and happier life.

I have been taking CBD for 2 years and have not experienced any serious side effects, nor has it caused me to become dependent.

It will impact Australians positively, allowing easier access to safer and regulated products. I feel that a lot of Australians are already accessing unregulated and illegal CBD products.

Thanks,
