

The upcoming ruling regarding Natural Medicine is very disturbing.

My family has used homeopathy as its main healing form for my whole life, and I AT LEAST WANT THE OPTION OF USING IT IF I WANT TO.

There is no real reason to make it unavailable; it is safe and if the correct remedy is used, extremely effective, often where nothing else will work.

OPTION 1 is the only one I feel OK about preferring, as it leaves it available, under reasonable guidelines.

With the medical profession mostly only able to use drugs, or surgery, please leave the ordinary people free to use homeopathy, or herbs or any natural therapies they choose (and just trust them to make reasonable choices most of the time)
