

To the TGA,

I strongly disagree with the current proposal to reclassify Homeopathic medicines as Option 4 (non-therapeutic). I strongly urge the TGA to leave Homeopathic medicines at Option 1 (low risk therapeutic).

Myself and my family have been seeking homeopathic consultation and medication for over a decade from a very experienced, long practicing Homeopath as a complement to conventional medicine through our GP. Homeopathic medicine is, in my and my family's experience, a very safe and effective complementary medicine and has a very long history around many parts of the world as such. Homeopathic medicine has on a large number of occasions been effective in remedying a variety of minor ailments for members of my family and I rely on it, in conjunction with conventional medicine, to keep my family healthy.

Homeopathic medicines are most certainly therapeutic and so Option 4 reclassification is just not an option. They are low risk and therapeutic so therefore Option 1 is appropriate and should under no circumstances be changed/reclassified.

Kind Regards,
