

Re-classification of Homoeopathic medicines

I cannot imagine why the TGA would consider reclassification of homoeopathic medicines when they have been used for thousands of years, are freely available from pharmacies across Europe and when dangerous drugs are readily available. What would be the benefit of this? We need to return to a more natural state all round in our lives.

Please do not fix what isn't broken by reclassify homoeopathic medicines. Keep them as what they are and as nature provided, low risk. Allow people to make their own life decisions and take responsibility.

Thank you
