

To Whom It May Concern,

While I may not be a health practitioner, I am a huge supporter of homeopathy and myself and my family have been raised on the medicine our entire life. I feel very lucky to be brought up on this extremely effective treatment. It can be used across a vast range of health needs and is a safe, effective healing therapy.

I have personally witnessed the amazing effects people have experienced when being treated by homeopathy and I personally have countless stories of how homeopathy has drastically helped me with a variety of different health issues.

I am personally appalled at the thought of not being able to access a health treatment that I have chosen for myself and my life and strongly support Option 1- Keep Homeopathy The Way It Is.

I can only hope that when I choose to start a family of my own they will be able to take advantage of the wonderful benefits that I have been lucky enough to have experienced my whole life. We live in a democratic society and therefore we should be able to choose how we treat our own personal health.

I urge you to please keep homeopathy a viable option for Australian and that you Keep Homeopathy The Way It Is!

Thank-you.
