

chemicals.scheduling@health.gov.au

To Whom it may concern

I am a consumer of amyl nitrates – I use them occasionally for sex and I fail to see how this behaviour can be considered illegal.

Poppers have been around for as long as I can remember, I have always used them to help with anal sex and I think banning them is a huge over reach.

I am a grown man and I know why I use poppers in the privacy of my bedroom, and I am really tired of the Australian obsession with over regulation.

I'm not hurting anyone, poppers are an integral part of my sexual experience. Please don't ban them.

Thank you

████████████████████