To those opening these documents – this is directed at those who have the audacity to interfere with my families wellbeing.

I am seriously still in shock that the TGA is even considering let alone trying to act on impinging on my right to access homeopathy.

I have consistently used homeopathic remedies under the guidance of an incredible homeopath for over 14 years. From my first pregnancy, to three home births (yes I am one of those!) to assisting my children through gastro, broken arms, hay fever, teething the list goes on. I don't even know if I am more shocked, outraged, angered or frustrated that yet again something so beneficial, and very inexpensive is being threatened. And for what purpose? Let me be cynical here for a moment... surely not to benefit the large scale pharmaceuticals.

If homeopathy didn't work discerning individuals simply would not use it.

Actually as I type I am out raged asto how dare the TGA try to impact on my family's wellbeing. We choose to live a lifestyle with wellbeing as our priority and to be sitting here wasting my time writing to you is ludicrous. The homeopaths out there are courageous, passionate about their patient's well fare and the remedies are simply beautiful –they work and they make a massive difference to health.
