Consultation: Options for the future regulation of 'low risk' products

Registration Of Concern

Please register my concerned point of view in regard to the regulation of low risk products.

It is my point of view that the profession and field of homeopathic medicine is a very safe modality and represents no public risk when compared to many other pharmaceutical medicines. The high number of consumers who now seek out this treatment is witness and evidence to its efficacy.

It is my point of view that public safety will remain intact if we keep homoeopathy regulated the way it is.

I vote for Option1: keep homoeopathy regulated the way it is.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Stuart Morick.
