

I am responding to the TGA options for regulating “Low Risk “ products.” I have used Homeopathy for almost 30 years. I can assure you that it is has invaluable therapeutic benefits to all Australians. The TGA must not inhibit its availability as would be criminal to do so, and at odds with Australia’s democratic values. Homeopathy is a gentle yet powerful tool for managing heath and it is within my, and every Australian’s, right to access it freely. To withdraw it would be of no benefit to anyone.

I vote for

Option 2 – Keep it the way it is but require scientific evidence for high level claims.
